

ST 11 10
26 January 2010

Zoë becomes the face of NHS Jobs

Local NHS worker wins national competition

Zoë Page, from Burnage, Manchester, has won a national competition to become the face of NHS Jobs.

Zoë, 27, a project manager at Stockport NHS Foundation Trust, was chosen by judges from almost 800 entries as one of 15 winners to feature on the NHS Jobs website (www.jobs.nhs.uk) and promotional materials.

NHS Jobs is the dedicated recruitment services for the NHS, advertising around 20,000 jobs every month.

The 15 winners will appear on the site as the new faces of NHS Jobs to demonstrate the diversity of the NHS workforce and encourage people to take a look at the opportunities available in the NHS.

The judges were particularly impressed with Zoë's commitment to working in the NHS and the enthusiasm she demonstrated towards her role.

Zoë commented: "I am really excited to have been chosen as the face of NHS Jobs. It is an honour and a privilege to represent all the hard working staff of the NHS on such a prominent national website.

"The whole process was a fantastic experience, having professional photographs taken and meeting NHS staff from across the country. The NHS Jobs website is a great resource and has helped me develop my career over the last five years."

Dr Chris Burke, chief executive of Stockport NHS Foundation Trust, added: “Everyone at the Trust is delighted that Zoë has been chosen as the face of NHS Jobs. It really is testament to the hard work that Zoë and, indeed, all our staff put in that she has been chosen to represent the NHS in this way.”

Sian Thomas, director of NHS Employers which runs NHS Jobs, explained: “NHS Jobs is one of the most popular recruitment websites in the country, with over six million visitors a month. I am thrilled that Zoë has been chosen as one of the winners of our competition to find the face of NHS Jobs. Zoë’s story will offer visitors to the NHS Jobs website a fascinating insight into what it’s really like to work in the NHS.

“Our winners show how diverse the 1.3 million NHS workforce is – from nurses to cooks, administrators to scientists. I am really pleased that the NHS Jobs website will feature the stories of the real people who work so hard in the NHS providing an excellent service to patients.”

ENDS

Photo caption: Zoë Page, project manager, Stockport NHS Foundation Trust

